Crestchic Portal - A Welcome Guide

The 'Crestchic Portal' is an invaluable online cloud storage system that contains easy and instant access to load bank manuals, datasheets, downloads for control system software, warranty information and much more. It is intended to be your 'one stop shop' for all hired and purchased load bank equipment

This guide is intended to be a basic introduction to the system, but if you have any issues with the portal, please get in touch with our team and they will endeavour to assist you further. They can be contacted via email at portal.customer@crestchic.co.uk or, if you'd rather speak to a team member, call on +44 (0)1283 531645.

System Highlights

Assets Menu

This is the core of the system allowing users to look at what assets they currently have and to easily find information pertaining to the equipment.
Please note: depending on the assets you have, these screens may be more - or less - populated than the example screens below.

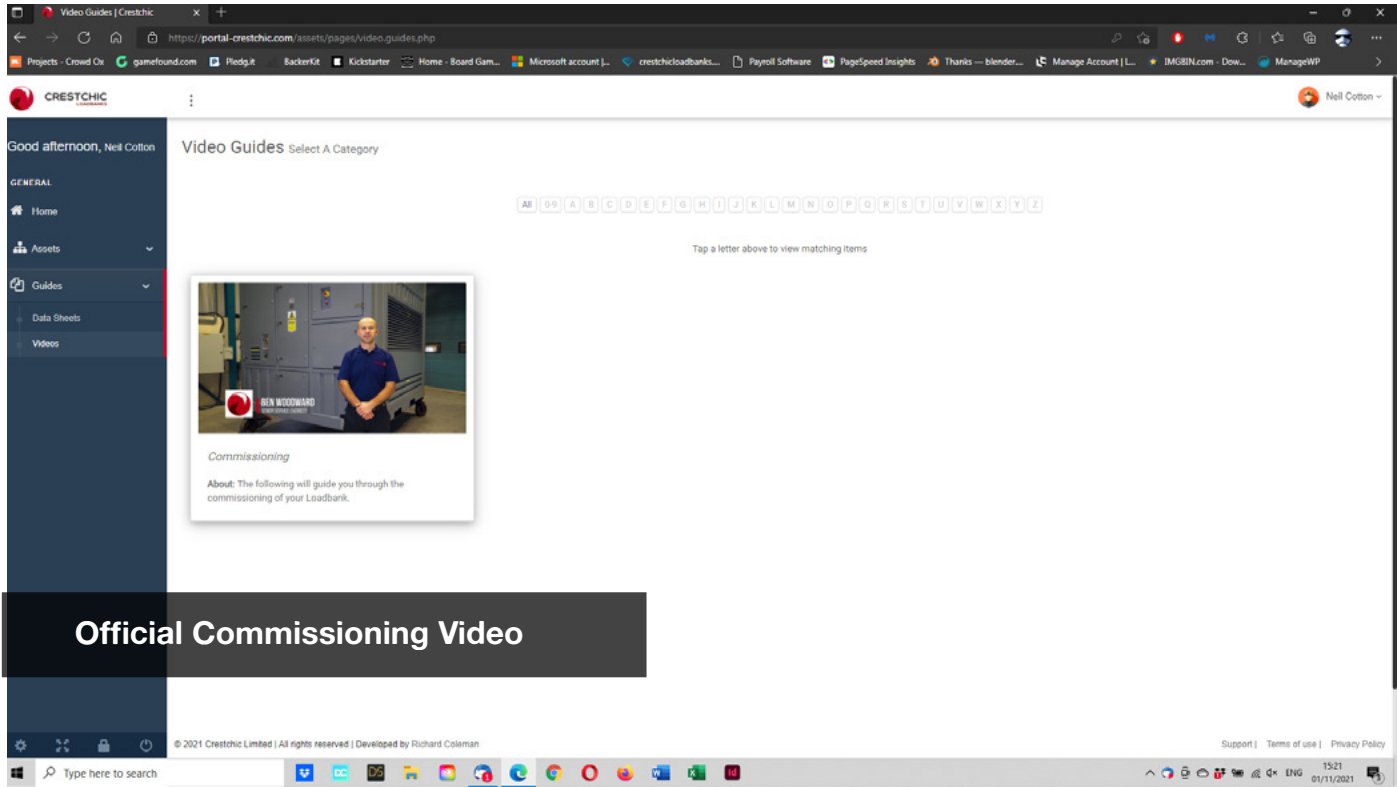

Asset Details

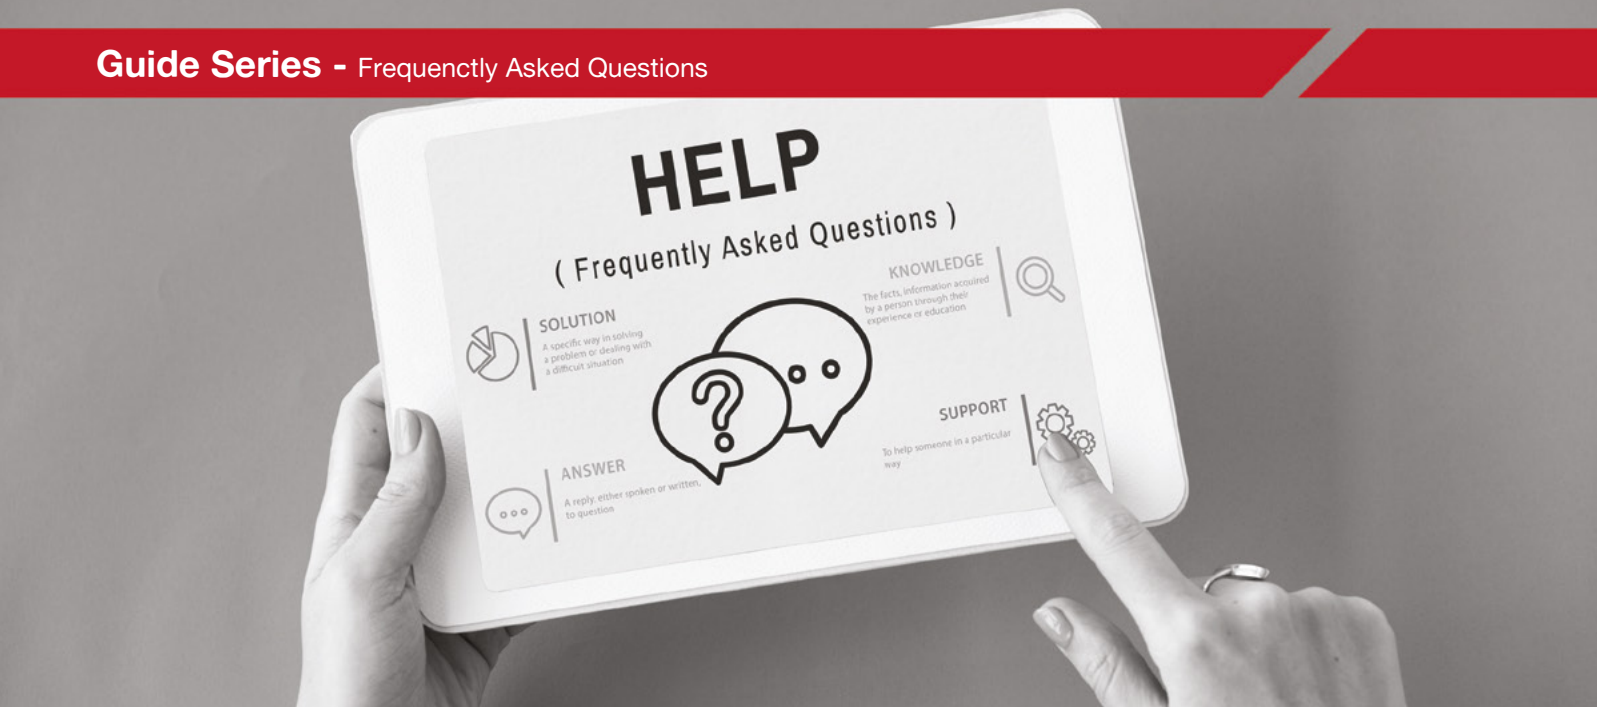

If you find an asset is not showing or listed incorrectly, please contact the team via email at portal.customer@crestchic.co.uk.

Video Menu

Located in the guides menu, this 13-minute video will present the approved way to commission a load bank for use on site.

NOTES:

How do I get access to the customer portal?

If you have previously had access and have forgotten your password, you can click the “I forgot my password” feature shown on the log in screen.

If you have never had access to the portal you can request access by contacting our team on portal.customer@crestchic.co.uk.

Why should I use the portal?

The portal has been designed to allow you fast access to a range of working documents relating to your hired or purchased equipment. This ‘one-stop-shop’ means you should have everything you need right at your finger tips, saving you valuable time when working on site.

You can also use the portal to view warranty status and raise claims, request service attention for the load banks and much, much more.

Can I use a mobile or tablet to view the portal?

Yes, the portal is optimised to view on the latest mobile or tablet devices.

Is the portal free to use?

If you have an existing customer contract with Crestchic, then the features within this portal are free to use. There are no further charges for the use of this site, however you/your company must arrange to pay your own data costs associated with mobile or tablet devices.
